From Forum to Community - What we changed

Omnis Forum is now Omnis Community

A Name that reflects who we are

Following many thoughts, changes and improvements
We decided to rename from

The logo for Omnis Forum, featuring the word "omnis" in blue and "forum" in orange.

to

The logo for Omnis Community, featuring the word "omnis" in blue and "community" in orange.

But it's not just the name we changed...

Bringing the Community together

Great Ideas don't need a barrier

We combined the language forums to one
Community Forum

➤ Feel free to post in your own language

We don't want to split the community into multiple smaller groups and believe that combining these will bring the Community closer together as well as simplify your experience

Introducing Email Notifications

Get updated immediately

- We have implemented Email Notifications
- We provide optional Notifications for almost every action happening inside the Community
 - You can exactly define which notifications you want to get
- So you're no longer forced to actively track Forum activities yourself
- Keep in mind you can add pictures, screenshots etc. to your posts

Choose which notifications to receive across all your devices.

Find your way around better

A cleaner, smarter navigation

To reach a more focused experience we

- Scrapped the News site
- Registered users will now start directly in the Feed
- Implemented a Welcome section for new Community users

Find your way around better

A cleaner, smarter navigation

There is an Introduction document for new users which includes

- How to use Community
- Community guidelines

Get started

Welcome to the Omnis Community

Build once. Run everywhere. Grow together.

This is a space for developers, innovators, and problem-solvers working with Omnis to create powerful applications across web, mobile, and desktop. Whether you're exploring your first project or scaling enterprise solutions, you're welcome here.

Share, Ask, Explore

Use this space to exchange ideas, ask questions, and learn from real-world experiences. There's no "perfect" question—just opportunities to move forward together.

Build on What's Already There

Our community grows with every shared solution. Feel free to explore existing discussions—you might find answers, inspiration, or even new approaches to your challenge.

Support Each Other

The best solutions come from collaboration. Be open, helpful, and respectful in your responses. If something isn't clear, ask. If you can help, jump in. Everyone here is building something.

Share What Moves You Forward

Got something useful? A solution, idea, or workflow? Share it. Contributions that help others build better and faster are what make this community valuable.

Grow Together with Omnis

Omnis is about speed, flexibility, and turning ideas into real applications across every platform. This community is here to support you on that journey—so you can build smarter, faster, and with confidence.
